PUBLIC HEARING SHOWS PLAN OF FRANCHISE CAN BE AGREED UPON

Merchants' Association, Governor and Company Approve the Latest Principles

Though the twig quivered on which the dove of peace roosted last night at the third public meeting on the bills before the senate for the extension of the Rapid Transit & Land Company's franchise, and though the breeze of sarcasm once or twice sent an ominous shiver across his wings, in the end he nestled down monarch the company and the governor. of all he surveyed.

A new bill has been prepared by Governor Frear, Attorney C. R. Hem-position of the bird when the chief executive replied that he was justified in making the statements he did when he contemplated what the comtroduced. But the breeze died down almost as quickly as it arose, and the expressions of displeasure on the faces of the governor and Mr. Castle gave place to smiles ...

The governor before this had outlined the changes made by the new bill, "the latest edition," as he called it. The only serious objection by the company to it, was on the stipulation that sections 14 and 15 of the present franchise act should be repealed. By repealing these two sections, it was said, the company would be prohibited from making investments in other interests, and would also narrow the field of its opera-

Will Discuss Differences Withington today, at which time the effect of the stipulation will studied, and it may be expunged in the bill to be offered to the committee representing the agreement of the company and the merchants associa-tion. Also a number of changes are expected to be made, but these, it is said, will be mere verbal ones. Richard Ivers informed the mittee that the general principle of the bill met with the approval of the company, and that though there may be a few legal questions, he believed WOULD MAKE BILL they could be straightened out easily. It was after he had spoken that the preezes of sarcasm and denouement began to blow and the fight between the governor and the railway waxed

"I will not yield one jot to governor in desire for the public. good but I do object when he makes ntentional slurs on the company make it seem we are out to do an injury to the public," declared Mr Castle. "This company is not here to answer to high crime and misdemeanor. The company simply wants to do its best. It is now before you for an extension of its franchise. Though the governor says I am a back number, I know at least one-quarter of what he does.

He continued to state that the company had reached a point in its life where much of the road had to be rebuilt, and that for some time to come much of the profits of the company must be used for this purpose.

If Mr. Castle did not yield a quarter to the givernor, it is very true that the governor did not yield a quarter to the company when he replied to Mr. Castle, and all the while the little squab of peace stood on one foot and then another, uncertain what to do, Governor's Answers Hot

"When I contemplate company was trying to perpetrate on the public it made my blood boil," cried the governor, referring to the bill introduced in the senate by Senator Chillingworth by request, and providing for the extension of the extend their franchise but to cut down the government's revenue to two and one-half per cent of the gross transof anything like that? "We believe it is in the interest of the public to have only one company here, and that if a line is run to Pear!

It is these points which will be straightened out at the conference. whatever amendments were to be offered be made in writing; A. L. Castle, secretary of the company, stated that an entire bill will be presented to the act 69 (section 837 of said revised committee showing the agreement between the merchants' association and

Some Minor Points at Issue

The whole spirit of the meeting last night was that all sides to the enway, representing the merchants' controversy can accept in principle at association, members of the associa- least and very largely in detail the tion, and Richard Ivers, representing latest bill as explained by Governor the company, as the result of a long Frear. The main points on which conference the general principle of minor differences might arise were which has met with the approval of stated last night to be those as the the company, and it was upon this territory and the company may enter, hasis that the dove consented to the date from which the franchise alight. But its position was not with extension is to run, and the repeal out its uncertainties. Especially was of sections 14 and 15 of the present its stay critical when W. R. Castle bill. Attorney Withington contends declared that the governor had made intentional slurs on the company, insinuating that it intended to injure the public and that it was a rapacious concern.

Attorney withington contends that the franchise extension should date from June 25, 1930, as the president approved the original bill to June 25, 1900. To this the governor replies that the franchise dates from And still more critical became the the beginning of actual construction, where between Wallupe pany was "attempting to perpetrate sion from July 1, 1929.
